

AL MAR KNIVES

The knives in this catalog are the beginnings of a new generation of factory knives. The AL MAR KNIVES, the finest factory-made custom knives in the world, incorporate Elegance with Utility. There is no comparison.

The folding knives have what no other factory folder possesses—a revolutionary Front Lock for the ease of use! This was originally developed through a combination of mechanical and human engineering skills by W.T. Fuller and Harvey McBurnette, custom knifemakers.

The blade is made from an exceptional, high carbon, stain-resistant steel RS 30, which was developed especially for Masahiro Cutlery Co., Ltd., located in Seki City, which has been and still is the Sword Making Capital of Japan. RS 30 has been used exclusively by them for the past 25 years. This particular steel, which is much improved over 440-C, gives exceptional edge-holding qualities and combines Strength and Durability. RS 30 can be brought to a Rockwell hardness of RC 64. We have lowered the Rockwell hardness to RC 57-59 for ease of sharpening in the field without any sacrifice of edge-holding ability. At present, Al Mar Knives and Masahiro Cutlery Co. are the only ones in the world using RS 30.

The bolsters of the Folding Knives are made of stainless steel with inner liners of brass. The scales are ivory colored Paper Micarta which is a material impervious to climate changes.

The Sheath Knives have full tapered tangs which give exceptional balance. These are made from the same high-quality materials as the folders. The guard area on the Sheath Knives are made of brass.

Both the Folders and Sheath Knives have precision ground blades and are made from hand-fitted parts.

The knives are made in Japan in the time proven "tradition" of the Japanese Samurai Sword Makers. Mr. Makoto Takaba of Seki City, one of Japan's most predominant swordmakers, says, "RS 30 has superior edgeholding qualities and hardness over fine top grade Samurai Swords."

"It takes more than a well-equipped shop to produce quality—it also takes distinguished craftsmen." Craftsmen of this caliber are few and far between. We have found both in Seki City (the Solingen of Japan).

When you inspect the AL MAR KNIFE, check it for detailed hand craftsmanship and precision engineering.

There is no comparison—it is a knife built with quality in mind—seldom found in factory-made products.

When you make knives this good, imitations are inevitable. Any similar product under a different name will only be an imitation.

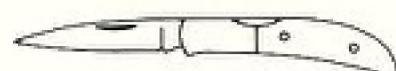

All of the scabbards are made by Tex Shoemaker & Sons, Inc. of San Dimas, California. They have 42 years of experience and are considered the pioneers in quality leather. Their reputation and products speak for themselves.

Remember, the Al Mar Mark is a symbol of Innovative Design and Precision Craftsmanship!
